DR. STANISLAV MENSHIKOV TO GIVE PUBLIC LECTURE AT SGWU

The Economics Department of Sir George Williams University will present a public lecture by Dr. Stanislav M. Menshikov on "Recent Trends in Soviet Economic Planning" Thursday, September 28.

Dr. Menshikov, Deputy-Director of the Institute of World Economy and International Relations at the U.S.S.R. Academy of Sciences, will speak at 8:30 p.m. in the Alumni Auditorium of SGWU's Hall Building, Maisonneuve Boulevard and Bishop Street.

The young economist is professor at Moscow State University. Born in 1927, he has visited the U.S.A., Japan, Great Britain, most European countries, India and Indonesia. His main publications (in Russian) are "American Monopolies in the World Market" (1958), "Millionaires and Managers" (1965), and "The Modern Capitalist Economy and its Contradictions" (1966). He is editor and co-author of "The Economic Policy of the Kennedy Administration" (1964) and "Modern Trends in Management of Large U.S. Corporations" (1966).
